PAVING ORDINANCES TO BE GIVEN ATTENTION BY COUNCIL

Meeting Tuesday Night Promised to be One of Considerable Importance

COUNCILMAN MAY BE NAMED

Election of Successor to D. R. Hornmelt Resigned, May be Brought Before Meeting—Jitney Buss Regulation Considered.

An important meeting of the borough council is scheduled for Tuesday evening, with six paving ordinances, an ordinance for taxing jitneys and a license ordinance will come up for attention. Also there is a likelihood of a councilman being named to fill out the unexpired term of D. R. Hornmelt who resigned at the first meeting of this month.

The paving ordinances to be given attention are those for the grading and paving of sections of Fifth street from Blythe alley to the borough line, Crest avenue from Second to Fourth street, Fourth street from Crest to Meadow avenue, Long alley from Ninth to Eleventh street, Cherry alley from Third alley to Fourth street and Third alley from Long alley to Washington avenue. It is the intention to take up the improvements of these enumerated streets as soon as possible with the opening up of weather and to that end the ordinances will be finally considered tonight.

One feature of the meeting promises to be in the consideration of the ordinance for licensing jitney busses. It is the opinion of council and of citizens that jitney busses, engaged as they are as common carriers on a money making basis should be required to have licenses.

What will develop in the councilmanic election remains to be seen. It is not known that this matter will be brought to the attention of council Tuesday night, but it may. Much interest centers in the election to the place.

ANTICIPATING BIG CROWDS FOR PREPAREDNESS DRAMA

Anticipating immense crowds to see "The Battle Cry of Peace" which he will show at the Coyle theatre Thursday and Friday of this week Manager Coyle is advising those who find it possible to attend the afternoon shows at 1:30 or at 3:30. Assurances have been received from nearby towns that scores will be here to witness the great preparedness drama. Each day there will be shows at 1:30 and 3:30 in the afternoon and at 7:30 and 9:30 at night. At the night show at 7:30 no one will be admitted after the theatre is filled. Nirella's orchestra is to play the music for the piece. This orchestra has played at points where the drama has been previously shown and has thematic score well in hand for the local work. "The Battle Cry of Peace" will be the most stupendous production ever attempted here in moving pictures.

For tonight show Manager Coyle is announcing "The Marble Heart." Tomorrow night's attraction is to be "Puddin'head Wilson," Mark Twain's famous story.

BESCO MAN IS SHOT BY THIEVES

Highwaymen Attempt Hold-up and in Fight Marshall Ferrer is Badly Wounded

VICTIM FOUND MUCH LATER

In a critical condition from being shot through the left lung in a battle with two highwaymen, whom he believes are Americans, Marshall Ferrer, aged 28 years of Besco, near Fredericktown, was taken to the Memorial hospital at Monongahela Sunday morning.

Only meager details of the shooting which may result fatally to Ferrer, who is an American, have been secured by state troopers who are working on the case. In a weakened condition Ferrer cannot talk much.

Briefly he stated that he was on his way to his home at Besco and was going through what is known as Black Dog hollow about 3 o'clock Sunday morning, when he was confronted by two men. They demanded that he turn over his money and valuables.

A fight followed during which one of the highwaymen pulled a revolver and fired five times. One bullet took effect in Ferrer's left lung but he grappled with the taller of the two robbers. A blow on the head rendered him unconscious. His clothes were gone through and his money and watch taken. He does not remember how much money he had with him. Ferrer was unable to give a description of the two men.

Ferrer was not found until some time later. Then he was removed to the office of Dr. Wilbur Huffman of Millsboro who gave first aid treatment and had him removed to the hospital.

W. H. Miliken of Washington avenue visited at Pittsburg Sunday.

AMERICAN WINDOW GLASS CO. RAISES WAGES OF EMPLOYEES

Workmen Are Notified of 7½ Per Cent Increase—Wage Scale Now One of Best Ever.

Following the announcement of the general advance in the prices of window glass by the American and Independent window glass companies during the last week, workers have been notified of an advance in wages equal to 7½ per cent. The American Window Glass company has gone the hand glass factories a little higher in some details. This makes the present wage rate one of the best the workers have enjoyed in many years. The advance is due to the fact that there is no foreign competition and trade has not only been growing in this country but glass has been sought by South America and other countries that bought from Belgian and German factories before the war. American Window Glass plants are located at Belle Vernon and Monongahela.

MAY HOLD COURT AN EXTRA WEEK

Numerous Homicides and Other Cases to Come to Trial at May Term

SOME INDICTMENTS AWAITED

As means of clearing the docket, an extra week of criminal court may be necessary at the May term. Numerous homicide and other cases have been held over till then. The trial of Samuel McPherson of Monongahela for the murder of Detective Wallace Hilton, held over two terms will come up. Mrs. William Rouse of Washington will be given her trial for the murder of her husband. Frank Caruso is listed for hearing for the murder of Joseph Dameano of Washington in December last. All these cases it is expected will consume much time.

Other homicide prosecutions listed are: Edward Lockhart for the murder of George Coates at Donora; Louise Cambesi, for the murder of Giovanni Geota, at California; Mike Grecci for the murder of Arcadia Sambenico at Meadowlands, Edward Bourguignon for the murder of August Paille at Midway; Steve Tordo for the murder of George Tokar, at Walkertown; and Pietro Moncini for the murder of Mike Dolene at Meadowlands on Monday morning of last week.

In some cases indictments have not yet been secured, but they will come before the May grand jury.

Other homicide cases in which the perpetrators have never been apprehended are also to be considered. Pete Tucci, wanted for the killing of Joseph Mangini, at Midway on December 12, last year, has never been arrested. The murderer of Dominic Articelli at Atlasburg on December 2, last and the slayer of Nick Urban-

Are Continuing Business With Little Interruption in Temporary Quarters BUILDING IS TO BE REBUILT

Jones' Structure to be Rebuilt After Former Plan—Regan & Hornmelt Obtain Stock From Charleroi Store and Make Another Start.

Those burned out by the costly conflagration which gutted the Jones' building at Monessen last Friday night are making instant recuperation and continuing their regular business activities without any severe interruption. This applies particularly to the firm of Regan & Hornmelt, known as the Monessen Plumbing company.

The Jones' building will be rebuilt from the present walls and reconstructed after the same plans upon which it was originally constructed. Improvements will be made in the basement from where the fire started. It is probable the same tenants who had stores and rooms in the building will return to their quarters, the Monessen Plumbing company and the Janavitz store on the first floor, the McClure millinery establishment and Dr. A. A. Kunkle, dentist, on the second floor and various dwellings in the six flats of the second and third floors.

The firms burned out have obtained temporary quarters. J. P. Regan of the Monessen Plumbing company is going ahead with regular work with stock from Charleroi store of the firm and Janavitz is getting a stock of goods on hand preparatory to resuming his dry goods store. Dr. Kunkle has moved and Moss & McClure are arranging a new stock.

ATTORNEY HARRY MYERS IS ORDERED TO DIXMONT

Attorney Harry Myers, of the Washington county bar, who following financial troubles several weeks ago lost his mind and who has been a patient at the St. Francis hospital, Pittsburg, has upon order of the court been committed to the Western Pennsylvania Hospital for Insane at Dixmont. The order follows a certificate of examination from doctors who find Attorney Myers suffering from general paresis. They pronounce him incurable.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IS OBSERVED BY THE P. H. C.

A pleasant evening was spent at the Protected Home Circle on Friday evening it being the celebration of St. Patrick's day. Ice cream, coffee and coffee was served after which the members amused themselves in an old time square dance. Charleroi Circle is now making a feature of the social functions and "something always doing" is the slogan. At the next meeting the regular lodge program will be featured at which time all members are being urged to attend.

It at Langeloth on November 23 last, are unknown. Also the murderer of Rodolfo Zaccanini, found backed to pieces just outside the Eighth ward, Washington on December 11 last is still at large.

COUNTY WIDE ORGANIZATION

Newspapers in all parts of the county are offering favorable comment on the organization of the Washington county Chamber of Commerce.
The Washington Observer says:

"Much good ought to be accomplished through the organization of the Washington county chamber of commerce, which was effected at the convention at Charleoi on Thursday.
So many things can be done through the united efforts of the businessmen of this county that it is surprising that so many years have passed without one.

It has well been said that the body can be of great service in acting as a clearing house for organizations located at various towns and community centers. We have many problems peculiarly local in their character, but there are very many also which are the same for all communities within a given sphere of business influence. Washington county is one of the fastest growing counties in the state and its future possibilities for development are great. It is possible to accomplish important things for the county if its business interest and its progressive citizens cooperate.
This is indeed the purpose of the new chamber of commerce and its future success and results will depend much if not altogether, upon the extent to which this cooperation is shown."

FLIES! FLIES! FLIES!!!

The St. Louis Health Department has issued this table showing how flies multiply:

June 1—One fly lays 120 eggs.
June 10—60 flies lay 7,200 eggs.
June 20—3,600 flies lay 432,000
eggs.
June 30—216,000 flies lay 25,920,
000 eggs.
July 10—12,960,000 flies lay 1,555,
200,000 eggs.
July 20—777,600,000 flies lay 93, 312,000,000 eggs.
5,598,720,000,000 eggs.
Aug. 1—2,799,360,000,000 flies lay 335,923,200,000,000 eggs.
Aug. 19—167,961,600,000,000 flies lay 20,155,392,000,000,000 eggs.
Aug. 29—10,077,696,000,000,000 flies
lay 1,209,323,520,000,000,000 eggs.
Sept. 8—604,661,760,000,000,000 flies lay 72,559,411,200,000,000,000 eggs.
Sept. 18—36,279,705,600,000,000, 000 flies lay 4,353,564,672,000,000,000, 000 eggs.
Sept. 28—2,176,782,336,000,000,000, 000 flies.
This concludes the story. Make your own argument.

The Washington News says: "A great movement was launched at Charleoi Thursday, when the Washington County Chamber of Commerce was organized. Representing, as it does the most progressive and able business men and interests of the county the possibilities that lie ahead of such an organization for the development of civic, commercial, industrial and agricultural prosperity are unlimited. A county-wide organization is the only means through which these purposes and objects can be brought to realization. Separate units acting on their own initiative and without consideration of what others may be doing, no matter how worthy or how sincere their intentions may be, could not make headway.
Harmony and concerted action is the essential thing. That has been obtained, and great accomplishments are now possible."

Again has the Charleoi fire department proven itself a friend in need, this time at Monessen. Responding to a frantic call from this neighbor the Charleoi department rendered the same sort of efficient help it did at Monongahela some time ago under similar circumstances.
These firemen did it without thought of praise and with no other object than that of helping where help was sadly needed. They recognized the need of prompt action and applied themselves assiduously to their task, performing it well. Charleoi may well feel proud of its department, and with all the pride it can feel happy that it has been of service and will continue to be of service to others in such cases of dire need.

Adding $75,000 a year to their yearly payroll is what the Macbeth-Evans Glass company did for Charleoi. This is $6,250 a month—a sum entirely worth while. Not everybody appreciates the significance of this increase. To Charleoi it represents in one sense what a new industry would represent, but that is not all.

The Macbeth-Evans Glass company is the largest manufacturing concern of illuminating glass in the world and this largest company's largest factory is located in Charleoi. There is a local pride in that fact. The factory is one which has been running steady-ly and with barely a suspension, even in warm weather, for years.
Even in the dull times of 1907 and the disturbed periods of 1914, when industry was slack, this factory kept pegging away, though it must be admitted not at its regular speed. Some time ago steel concerns over the country and other industrial operations declared advances. Now then comes the glass trade increases, so that the cornucopia of plenty seems pretty well filled.

Conlen said.

Mr. Conlen and another lawyer had gone to New York to invite the ex-ambassador to England to deliver an address in Philadelphia. Mr. Conlen's companion carried a green bag, which he laid upon Mr. Choate's table, evidently to the great lawyer's annoyance.

"What do you carry in that thing?" he asked.

"I have some law books," the young Philadelphia attorney replied.

"When I was a young lawyer," Mr.
Choate said rather slyly, "I was taught to carry my law in my head."

And the invitation was declined—

In the Newton chapel of the church at Colsterworth, in Lincolnshire, England, where Sir Isaac Newton was born, is to be seen one of the most interesting relics of the greatest of philosophers. It consists of a sundial and was carved by Newton when he was a boy on a stone in the house in which he was born, his only tool being a pen-knife. There it remained for many years until removed to Colsterworth church. Unfortunately the organ has been built directly in front of this interesting relic, so that unless one knows of the stone's existence and its presence in the church it is overlooked.

BAD DREAMS ARE SYMPTOMS

Ill Health the Cause—Many Alarming Symptoms—How Cured.

Paterson, N.J.—"I thank you for the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies as they have made me feel happy and healthy. Sometime ago I felt so run down, had pains in my back and side, was very irregular, tired, nervous, had such bad dreams, did not feel like eating and had short breath. I read your advertisement in the newspapers and decided to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It worked from the first bottle, so I took a second and a third, also a bottle of Lydia E.
Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and now I am just as well as any other woman. I advise every woman, single or married, who is troubled with any of the aforesaid ailments, to try your wonderful and I am sure they will help her to get rid of her troubles."—Mrs. ELISIE J.

LURE OF THE STAGE.

A Greater Danger to Young Men Than to Young Women.

I genuinely believe that the stage is a place of greater danger to young men than to young women. This is a surprising statement, you think? I defend it by saying that the actor is liable to frustrate away his time. He plays a few hours a day, and for the remainder of the time he "rests." He doesn't need so much rest. He needs work and study, and if he doesn't have them there will be a rapid disintegration of character. There was never a truer adage than that concerning idleness and the location of the devil's workshop.

But girls can and do find more to do. They really all sew. It is great economy of time and of purse for them to do so. Cloth is cheap, and if they can fashion it into bouffants and finger-ies and into simple gowns they are thereby the gainers. Girls are rather more industrious than men. I have noticed that the girls in a company employ their time well. They read and study.
I have never known but one young actor—no, two—who studied.

The observer should be a constant student. He needs to know music and painting and sculpture and languages and literature. It requires a lifetime to learn all that he should know of the collateral arts.—Edith Wynne Mathison in Theater.

OUR NATIONAL FLAG.

Various Occasions When It Was Flown
For the First Time.

The first display of the national flag at a military post was at Fort Schuyler, on the site of the present city of Rome, N. Y. The fort was besieged early in August, 1777. The garrison was without a flag, so one was made according to the prescription of congress by cutting up sheets to form the white stripes, bits of scarlet cloth for the red stripes, and the blue ground for the stars was made from a piece of the blue cloak belonging to Captain Abraham Swartwout of Dutchess county, N. Y. This flag was unfurled over the fort on Aug. 3, 1777.

The national flag was first unfurled in battle on the banks of the Brandywine, Sept. 11, 1777. The flag was first hoisted over a foreign stronghold June 23, 1778, when Captain Rathbone of the American sloop of war Providence captured Fort Nassau, on the Bahama Islands.

Captain Paul Jones was the first man to display the American flag on an American vessel. This flag was made by the women of Portsmouth, N. H., for the Ranger, which was fitted out at that port for Captain Jones. The Ranger sailed from Portsmouth on Nov. 1, 1777.

Cheerfulness and Cholera.

A cheerful disposition is held by some doctors to be the best protection against cholera. When this disease first visited Paris, in 1832, a notice was issued advising the inhabitants "to avoid as far as possible all occasions of melancholy and all painful emotions and to seek plenty of distractions and amusements. Those with a bright and happy temperament are not likely to be stricken down." This advice was largely followed, and even when cholera was claiming over a thousand weekly victims the theaters and cafes were thronged. The epidemic was in some quarters treated as a huge joke and plays and songs were written around it. Rochefort wrote a play, "Le Cholera Morbus," which proved a big success, and another production on the same lines, "Paris-malade," also had a long run.

Industry supplies the want of parts;

move mountains.—William Penn.

POLITENESS IN CHINA.

It Takes a Peculiar Form at Times, Particularly at Dinner.

A Chinaman prides himself on his politeness more than on anything else.
So when he meets you he shakes his own hand. When he goes to leave you he folds his hands across his breast and makes three bows.

Some times in China it is considered polite, when you are invited to a friend's house, to throw the chicken bones on the floor. As you are having dinner and chatting about the rice crop it is proper form, when you get through with a drumstick, to toss it on the floor and go on with the conversation.

The host takes this as a compliment, for it shows that you know that he has servants enough to clean the things off the floor. If you put the bones on the plate it reflects on the number of servants that he can afford to keep.

If you have a dollar on your dressing table your room boy wouldn't steal it for anything; he would lose face if he did, but when your back is turned he will exchange it for a counterfeit.
He can do this and still keep his face.
If you miss something about your room and know positively that your boy stole it and accuse him he will deny it as long as he has breath. Under a slow fire and salt he would still deny that he had taken it; to admit that he had stolen your knife would be to lose face.

But after accusing him, if you will let it go for a day or two the knife will mysteriously return, or you will find it under a handkerchief on your dresser.
You know that he has returned it, and he knows that you know, but his face has been saved, and as a result he is light hearted and happy.—Homer Crox in Leslie's.

COLONEL BOWIE'S KNIFE.

The Original Weapon Was Presented to Edwin Forrest.

As a very small child I remember a bowie knife that was kept hanging from a high post bed. It was my joy when alone to draw up a chair, place a cricket on that, then climb up, clasping the bedpost with one arm and with the other drawing the bowie knife as far from the sheath as I dared. I can feel now the murderous gleam of the steel and the thrilling sense of danger.

I do not know what has become of this knife, but there are several among the Bowie family in Maryland and one which, I think, is asserted to be the original is preserved at the Players' club in New York.

The original was fashioned from an old file under the personal supervision of Colonel Rezin P. Bowie by Jesse Chiffe, the plantation blacksmith, and given to his brother, Colonel James Bowie, who made it famous and gave it to the actor Forrest after having used it in nineteen deadly encounters.

Colonel Bowie was called by the Indians the Fighting Devil, by his Texan followers the Young Lion, yet we are also told that he was the most peaceable man in the world if you let him alone. His portrait is that of a strong man and a gentleman thoroughly distilluted and as true as steel. Above all things the leader for a forlorn hope, but with no suggestion of the border desperado which he is so often represented to be.—A. Bowie in New York Sun.

How to Build a Campfire.

For a noon ball gather a couple of heaping double handfuls of dry twigs about the size of a lead pencil. If there are no leaves at hand for tinder shave a few of the twigs as finely as possible with a sharp knife, leaving the shaving attached to the twig at one end. As a support for the kettle set two flat stones on edge at an angle about two sides of the fire with their rear edges touching, so as to keep the "fireplace" from collapsing. The bright blaze which this little fire gives at the start will get up steam in short order, and the glowing coals which it leaves will be just right for cooking. If the stones are handy the kettle may be swung from a forked stake driven into the ground at an angle so that it will jut over the fire.—Onting.

Insane.

"I went down to an east side neighborhood house the other evening to pre-sile at a debate of the children," said the teacher as she faced her companions at the boarding house table.

"The subject was capital punishment, and the disputation closed with a barrage by a youth of twelve, who said:
'I disagree with capital punishment.
Any one that commits murder ain't in a sanitary condition.'"—New York Post.

His Regular Cue.

"What made you start clapping your hands when that woman stepped on your foot in the car?"
"I was doing," answered Mr. Camrox. "I thought mother and the girls were having a musical at home and one of them was signaling that it was time to applaud."—Washington Star.

Dilemma.

Husband—Why don't you put your mind on it and get a good cook? Wife (sweetly)—I don't think I know how. I don't seem to have any faculty in selecting people to live with.—Life.

An Indication.

"Is your daughter getting on well with her music?"
"I guess so. The neighbors are getting so they speak to me civilly again."
—Toledo Blade.

Big Exception.

"I never knew a man yet who wanted to listen to other people's troubles."
"Then I guess you've never known any lawyers."—Boston Transcript.

HER 1916 CALL

Suffragists To Enter Primary Campaign

Will Place All Candidates on Record and Support Those Endorsing Equal Franchise.
Declare Strength Is Greater
This Year

Conscious of the added strength given their cause and organizations by the $35,348 men who voted for their amendment, last fall, suffragists of Pennsylvania are awaiting the closing of the lists of those entering petitions for nominations at the May primaries, to begin anew their campaign for the right to vote.

While those who aspire to seats in the Legislature or to represent districts of the State in Congress, are making their announcements, the women enrolled in the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association are completing details of the plan adopted at the conference of state workers which will put these same candidates upon record for or against woman suffrage.

According to announcement from the suffrage headquarters in Harrisburg, instructions will be sent the county organizations, and, with the state body supporting them, these organizations will labor for or against the election of candidates as their confessions of faith may necessitate.

The suffragists hold, according to Mrs. George W. Dibert, chairman of the Woman Suffrage Party of the State, that the voters who will be called upon by the candidates to pass upon their qualifications to serve them in legislative bodies, both state and national, have a right to know the views and position of the candidates concerning equal franchise.

"The time has come," Mrs. Dibert asserts in an announcement, "when women have the right to oppose those seeking office who are antagonistic to woman suffrage. We carried 23 counties, last year, and polled large numbers of votes in the others.
In all sections of the State our women are eager to enter the primary campaign to help elect the candidates who will assure the passage of our amendment bill at the next session of the Legislature. We have money pledged to defray our expenses and the enthusiasm necessary to complete our work. Our methods will continue to be as dignified as in the past, and, we hope, even more effective. We are determined to let the voters know where all candidates stand upon woman suffrage so they may vote as their sense of fairness and justice dictates."

Newton D. Baker, the newly ap-

Mr. Baker is a member of the Men's ever a change occurs. Mrs. Baker is a staunch suffragist and has taken part in a number of pageants for the Justice at Ohio Ballot Boxes.

Twice in four years, 1912 and 1914, Ohio women have submitted the question of woman suffrage to the voters and were defeated. In 1910, upon wholesale indictments, the voters of Adams county were disfranchised for five years, for fraudulent voting. The five years have passed and automatically these ballot-box stuffers are restored to citizenship and entitled, when Ohio women again submit their question, the right to say whether these Ohio women may or may not vote.

What a Difference!

In Norway, where women have full suffrage, the number of divorces is six per 100,000. In Japan, where the suffrage movement has hardly got a start, the divorce rate is 228 per 100,000.

NEW CHANCE FOR SUFFRAGE

RESOLUTION IN CONGRESS

According to a dispatch from Mrs. Frank M. Roessing, former head of the State suffrage association and now working in Washington, D. C., as an officer of the national organization, the Susan B. Anthony woman suffrage amendment resolution will have another chance for action in the current session of Congress.

This development, according to Mrs. Roessing's message to state suffrage headquarters at Harrisburg, Pa., is the result of a decision by the House Rules Committee to reconsider, March 28, its recent action postponing consideration of the amendment resolution until December.

Mrs. Roessing says she and other national officers are cor-tain the final action by the committee will be favorable.

Jersey Anti-Suffrage Politicians Do Not Want Women's Advice on Schools.

In a city of New Jersey, which was peculiarly unwilling to grant women the vote, the Board of Trade has just held a session to consider whether it should recommend the City Board of education to its public school system. For its better instruction it invited an expert to come and talk to the men who make up the board.

This board is composed of local business men, a real estate agent, a dealer in coal, a young man recently graduated from High School who has fallen heir to the editorship of the weekly paper. Some women who are principals of grammar schools in the city wanted to hear the expert, too.
Some of the mothers of the city whose children will be affected by changes in educational plans also wanted to attend this session. But the Board of Trade, which was almost identical in its personnel with the leaders of the anti-suffrage campaign in that city, decided it did not want the cooperation of either the teachers or mothers in order to decide upon the kind of educational plans the city should adopt—it only wanted voters.

WEAK FROM GRIPPE

Home Missionary Tells How She Restored Her Strength.

"I am a Home Missionary, was weak and run-down after a hard spell of LaGrippe. I had headaches indigestion and pains in my chest, and was tired all the time. A friend asked me to try Vinol and the results is I am free from those troubles and I feel well and strong and able to go to work again." Mrs. Hattie Johnson, Towanda, Pa.

The reason Vinol was so successful in building up Mrs. Johnson's health is because it is a constitutional remedy which contains peptonate of iron to enrich and revitalize the blood, the nourishing properties of beef peptone and the healing medicinal extracts of fresh, healthy cods' livers, all combined in a delicious native tonic wine, without oil.
We wish every person in Charleroi who is suffering from a weakened, run-down, debilitated condition, would try our Vinol on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit them. Piper's Drug Store.
